Coastal Views and History. With a short drive from Port Douglas we share great views from Canefields to the Rainforest Clad Mountains of the Daintree. This area is rich in History from Goldfields and Pioneers of bygone days and the Sugar industry alongside Eco-Tourism of today.

Daintree National Park. Nature's own little secret, dense, untamed Rainforest covers some 96 thousand hectares. listed as a part of the protected World Heritage in 1988. Showcasing outstanding examples of plants representing the major stages of the earth's evolutionary history.

Mount Lewis. Here some of the most important and significant natural habitats of threatened plants and animals of outstanding universal value still survive. One of the finest drives in Queensland.

Cycad Valley Walk. Where the ancient Hope's Cycad [Lepidozamia hopei] reaching ages of 1000 years or more dominate this unique area, one of the wonders of the Daintree Rainforest.

Red Hill. A privately owned exclusive Nature Reserve, a true example of Eco-tones in this wonderful area and some of the most breathtaking scenery on the Great Dividing Range. Red Hill represent's some of the closest modern counterparts to those found in the Jurassic fossil forests.

Savanna Country. Once over the dividing range accessing the dry areas is simply a short drive west. great Termite Mounds, Kangaroos with Historical Townships and Outback Wetlands with multitudes of Birds.

The Gondwana Walk. An amazing walk amongst ancient plants and towering trees. Highlighting the parallel evolution of plants and animals from ancient times to the present day.

Cloud Forest's. Climbing through 900 meters we enter the Cloud Forest, this zone directly contributes a higher volume of water to catchments than lower altitude Rainforest. Like giant sponges, they capture large volumes of water and release it slowly throughout the year. For this reason, Cloud Forests are believed to be of great importance to the maintenance of stream flows in the Wet Tropics throughout the dry season.

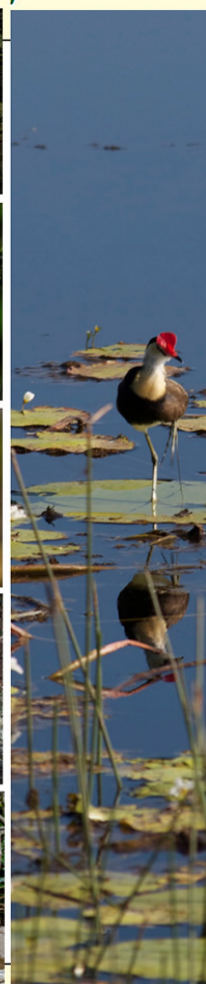

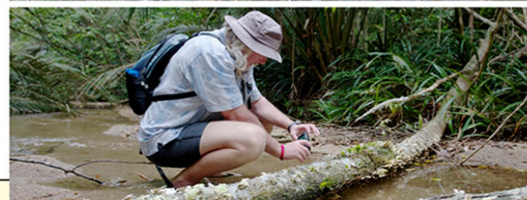

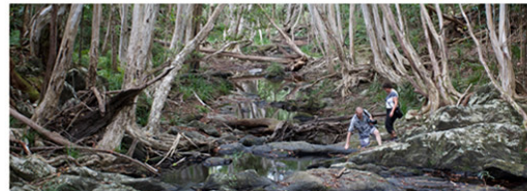

Morning Tea. Seasonal Tropical Fruits, Cakes Cookies and deep within the Tropical Rainforest a perfect setting for a great morning far from the general crowds.

We Supply! Rainwater for drinking, Reference Books, Binoculars, Umbrellors for when it may rain, Morning Tea, Hotel pick-up and return with an Itinerary that changes daily depending on your requirements. And an Amazing Tour full of all the wonders of the Tropical North. Also the Luxury of being able to experience the true sounds of silence!
